

March 26, 2009

Talia Mann, City Harvest, 212.843.9341

Say “Bonjour” to Spring with Culinary Tour de France

Nine of the Group’s Restaurants to Raise Money throughout the Month April to Support City Harvest

New York, NY — Say “bonjour” to spring with Culinary Tour de France, the restaurant group bringing the varied and celebrated cuisines of France to Manhattan. Culinary Tour de France is insuring that City Harvest continues to rescue food for New York’s hungry with Spring For City Harvest 2009 Let It Bloom.

Beginning April 1, and running through the month of April, diners can add one dollar - $1 – to their check at any Culinary Tour de France Restaurant for the One Mouth Can Make a Difference campaign and contribute to City Harvest, New York City’s only food rescue program. The Culinary Tour de France restaurant group is committed to helping them feed the growing number of New Yorkers seeking emergency food.

Participating restaurants include:

- Cafe d’Alsace (1695 2nd Avenue)
- French Roast Downtown (78 West 11th Street)
- French Roast Uptown (2340 Broadway)
- L’Express (249 Park Ave South)
- Le Monde (2885 Broadway)
- Maison (1700 Broadway)
- Marseille (630 9th Avenue)
- Nice Matin (201 West 79th St)
- Pigalle (790 8th Avenue).

A special prix fixe menu benefiting City Harvest will also be available throughout the month of April at select locations.